Alpha Tau Omega Annual Review
2010-2011 Academic Year
Xi Chapter

Chapter Accomplishments:

- Scholarship—After receiving an award for outstanding scholarship from our national organization this past summer, we continued working to improve our scholarship at Duke. While we have the 2nd highest GPA of any ATO chapter in the nation, we had recently been much lower compared to fraternities at Duke. However, after hard work and increased focus on academic achievement, we earned a 3.541 GPA for the fall 2010 semester that placed us 5th among IFC fraternities. We hope to continue that trend for the foreseeable future.

- Programming—ATO did a great job this year of taking advantage of our space on campus by offering a diverse array of impactful events. In the fall, we hosted to successful section parties that provided social opportunities open to the entire Duke community. Rappers’ Delight, one of those parties, was co-hosted by Craven Quad Council and featured up and coming performers Eddy B and Tim Gunter live on stage. Over the course of the year, the brothers of ATO hosted discussions with President Brodhead, Police Chief Daley, and Associate Dean of Students Todd Adams in our commons. These events featured lively discussions and were enriching to the Taus and our guests alike. Additionally, we hosted a number of barbecues for the Craven Housekeeping Staff, our brothers, and our alumni throughout the year. Finally, ATO organized a 5k run and charity auction supporting the NC Autism Society, a trip to the NC Carnivore Preservation Trust, and a Habitat Build as we, as a brotherhood, try to maintain a commitment to philanthropy.

- Brotherhood—ATO maintains a reputation for having one of, if not the, tightest brotherhoods on campus. With this comes a strong tradition of mentorship and support for younger members, a lasting bond even after graduation, and a strong commitment to alumni. Whether it’s dinner in the common room, trips to the Final Four, paintballing with brothers, or just a barbecue in the quad, ATO embodies brotherhood in everything we do.

Areas for Improvement:

- Cleaning/damages—While a number of the damages this year had strong extenuating circumstances, we need to do a better job in next year in protecting our space. Despite the uptick in damages, I think we maintained a strong relationship with RLHS and the Housekeepers.

- Scholarship—Although we saw a nice improvement in our GPA last fall, we need to show sustained excellence going forward.

- Diversity—We have tried to focus on diversity in our recruitment practices, our efforts have not been totally successful and we would like to see that improve going forward.

Community Service and Philanthropic Initiatives:

ATO prides itself on being involved across a wide variety of social, leadership, and philanthropic opportunities. Specifically, our chapter hosts an annual 5K and Charity Auction that benefit the NC Autism Society and have been successful for a number of years. This year we plan to raise over $3500 for that society through those events. Furthermore,
ATO also sponsors brothers’ initiatives such as our trip to the NC Carnivore Preservation Trust and Habitat builds. Finally, individual brothers actively pursue a number of opportunities such as: Big Brother, tutoring in local schools, participating in DukeEngage, and much more.

Academic Initiatives:

We are hoping to continue to build on our academic success last semester through a number of areas. We work hard to match older brothers with younger brothers in their major in an academic mentorship program. Furthermore, we expanded that program to pledging this year in an effort to keep their grades from dropping during the spring semester.

Alpha Phi Chapter

Chapter Accomplishments:

- Chapter was awarded the Exceptional Scholastic Achievement Award in recognition of having the highest GPA of any chapter for the 2009-2010 academic year.
- The chapter moved into a new section in Kilgo N from Craven A. I see this move as an upgrade over our old section and I would like to maintain this section as the House Model is adopted in the coming years.
- The chapter organized a Bone Marrow Drive with DKMS Americas to get people registered for Bone Marrow transplanted and registered almost 300 people and raised close to $1000 for the cause.

Areas for Improvement:

- Continue to have strong recruitment. This year we took a much smaller class than we would have liked and I would like to make sure we get back on track taking larger classes next year. We are also considering adding some new members in the fall.
- Scholarship: Although our chapter has the highest GPA of any KA chapter in the nation, our cumulative GPA has decrease over the last two semesters and we need to work to stop this trend.
- More involvement with MDA the national philanthropy. Although our chapter hosts strong philanthropy events every semester, I would like to give more money to Muscular Dystrophy Association over the next year.

Philanthropy:

- Participated in and won Zeta Tau Alpha’s eating contest to raise money for Breast Cancer research.
- Participated as a fraternity in November to raise money and awareness for Prostate Cancer research.
- Organized a very successful Bone Marrow Registration drive in partnership with DKMS Americas.
- Raised almost $1000 through fundraising activities for DKMS Americas.
- Sponsored a brother to run in the Baltimore City Marathon as a fundraiser for flood relief in Pakistan.
- Currently working with Tri Delta to organize their annual Sumo Smash event benefitting St. Jude’s Children’s Research Hospital.

Academic Initiatives:
The only academic initiatives that are currently in place are a member is placed on academic probation if they did not have higher than a 2.5 GPA in the previous semester. Overall the chapter has a very strong GPA within the national organization and we do not feel any further Academic Initiatives need to be in place.

Alpha Alpha Chapter

Chapter Accomplishments

- Achieved a chapter GPA among the top three of all Pi Kappa Alpha chapters nationwide.
- Achieved the second highest IFC group GPA at Duke.
- Reached the semifinals in both IM basketball and football.

Three Areas That Need Improvement

- While we have recently expanded our effort to reach out to alumni, we need to follow through with connecting and engaging more Duke Pike alums.
- Another area we have identified as lacking is our philanthropic endeavors. We have done small events to help raise money, though not on the same scale (week long events) as in the past. We are looking to continue our tradition of the fireman’s challenge that our chapter has not done in a few years.
- Throughout the RGAC process, we realized that we have section management issues that also need to be addressed.

Community Service and Philanthropy

- Kappa Cookout: Hosted an event with food and music on the Wannamaker patio with Kappa Alpha Order and Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. to raise money for ACS.
- Held a mixer with Kappa Alpha Order, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta that raised money for Haiti relief.
- Currently working on an outreach project with the Duke hospital.

Academic Initiatives

- This year we set up a mentoring program for new members. We did our best to pair freshmen’s interests and majors with upperclassmen who have experience in this area.
- Pike is proud of its high GPA. We continue to support one another with peer tutoring and mentoring.

Mu Chapter

Three Chapter Accomplishments:

• Brotherhood Initiative- A brotherhood mental health support group with trainings that focus on salient issues from alcohol/substance abuse to relationships and gender relations at Duke. This is a program run in conjunction with CAPs and Gary Glass. It has been expanded to both Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma.
• Positive Steps towards making Central Campus more of a community- The introduction of Trivial Wings was the first step in making Central Campus more of a community and less of simply a group of people who couldn’t find a place to live on West or off campus. The next step was co-hosted BBQs with Central Campus Council. They provided funds and we supplied the manual labor and advertising to bring people out to Central.
• We survived- Given the year we’ve had, there shouldn’t be much needed to be said here.

Three Areas that need Improvement

• Academic Initiatives- As you will see below, we are lacking in them a little.
• Interaction with a higher diversity of groups- In general we work with the same few sororities, and no fraternities. Inter-Greek Collaboration is a large area that we could improve in.
• Risk Management- Given our EMS call, there is clearly a need to reevaluate how things are run at our events. Fortunately, we have taken the first step to doing so, by consulting with Liz Prince.

Community Service and Philanthropic Initiatives

• A burgeoning relationship with Habitat for Humanity.
• PUSH Week. A week raising money for Pi Kappa Phi’s philanthropy and raising awareness for people with disabilities.
• Partnering with DPS in numerous events to raise money for their playground initiative.
• Hosted Halloween trick or treating for local students.

Academic Initiatives

• Set up tutoring program for our Associate Members during the New Member Education Process.
Psi Upsilon Fraternity Annual Review

Chi Delta Chapter

Academics

• Two of our brothers were initiated into the Order of Omega Greek honor society: Chris Kizer and Mandy Lowell.
• Three of our brothers are graduating with distinction or high distinction: Tina Del Carpio, Misha Lavrov, and Eng Seng Ng.
• Eng Seng Ng was named a Pratt Fellow and Grand Challenge Scholar.
• Several of our brothers were awarded with Summer Research Fellowships to do research over the coming summer. These brothers include Molly Cinderella, Alyssa Fowers, Mandy Lowell, Bowen Niu, and Dani Schocken.
• Molly Cinderella and Dani Shocken both received study abroad acceptances to do research in Rome and China and India, respectively.
• Tina Del Carpio, Sterling Dorminey, Lisa Gutermuth, Megan Heysham, and Dani Shocken were on the Deans' List.
• Tina Del Carpio received a Molly Glander award. Mandy Lowell presented at an undergraduate conference in medieval and renaissance studies, Lisa Gutermuth and Sterling Dorminey participated in a programming competition, Misha Lavrov took part in a mathematics competition, and Megan Heysham was chosen to attend the Grace Hopper Computing Conference.

Fraternity Involvement

• Over the course of the year, we visited approximately 20 alumni and were visited by about 50. We continued to work with our alumni association to ensure the growth of the chapter with events such as leadership workshops.
• We continued to strengthen ties with the Gamma Tau and the Eta chapters of Psi Upsilon with visits to both this year. Gamma Tau brothers and Chi Delta alumni were also present for our annual medieval party in the fall. In addition, we had numerous brothers attend the installation of the latest Psi Upsilon chapter and were visited by members of the Psi U colony at Georgia State University who hoped to get a better understanding of how a full-fledged Psi U chapter is run.

Campus Involvement

• Among the Interfraternity Council chapters at Duke, ours was the first to have every member trained as a Party Monitor.
• Our chapter was among those involved in the Greek Women's Initiative. We participated in this organization with the aim of helping to improve the gender dynamics at Duke.
• Our annual Sushi night was once again a great success with attendance of over 100.
• Duke's Resident Group Assessment Committee awarded us with a score that placed us 2nd among fraternities and 3rd among all selective living groups.
• Brothers Aaron Sherman, Mandy Lowell, and Chris Kizer are the presidents of Duke's circus club, Medieval and Renaissance Student Union and gaming club, respectively. We also have brothers involved in marching band, Native American Student Alliance, Japanese Culture Club, Duke Players, the LGBT center, Duke Symphony Orchestra, Moot Court, a group for patient center medicine, writing club, Irish dance club, jiu-jitsu club, and Project Wild pre-orientation program. Eng Seng Ng was also a founding member of STARS committee- a group dedicated to securing funding for sustainability efforts. Brother Emi Marchetti represents Duke as a coxswain for varsity women’s rowing.

Philanthropy

This year, we completed 416 total hours in chapter service events, and 111 hours from outside activities. Our service events contributed hours to the following causes: Second Chance Pet Adoption, American Tobacco Trail cleanup, Awasa No Kill Animal Shelter, Kramden Institute, IFC Cares, CPR courses, Habitat for Humanity, Conservator’s Center, MOvember, Child’s Play, Atlanta St. Patrick’s Day Parade, and Relay for Life.

The Chi Delta chapter raised money for the following causes:
- Relay for Life: $450
- MOvember: $775
- Total: $1225

Our chapter participated in the following events sponsored by other Greek and student organizations:
- IFC Cares: sponsored by Interfraternity Council
- Habitat for Humanity deconstructions: sponsored by Duke Habitat
- Relay for Life: sponsored by Duke Relay

Areas to Improve

- We intend to be more involved with our chapter advisor, Tom Szigethy. At the end of this last semester, our President, Executive Vice President, and Fraternity Educator all met with Tom in order to reconnect and prepare for the next year.
- Recently, the recruitment process has been an intense focal point for the chapter causing other activities such as philanthropy to take a back seat in the spring semester. We hope to strike a better balance between recruitment and other activities this year.
- We aim to increase ties with the Greek community at Duke this year and to widen our campus presence. Ideas include co-sponsoring events with other chapters and hosting a larger variety of activities in order to get our name out.
Chapter Annual Review

Chapter Accomplishments:

- Over the last year, we have vastly improved our recruitment strategies for both fall and spring recruitment. We tripled the size of our fall recruitment class, and more than doubled the size of our spring class.
- Our colony won the annual Province Omicron Songfest Competition at Province Leadership School.
- After our first two years as a colony, we took measures this spring to rewrite our bylaws to better reflect the operations and goals of our colony. While our original bylaws were adequate in guiding the governance of our colony, we felt they were too outdated and generic. Since passing the new set of bylaws, chapter management has shown a noticeable improvement.
- Our brothers have maintained an average of 15 hours of community service per semester over the past year. The SAE national average is 5 hours per brother per semester.
- Working with members from Duke’s Alumni House and SAE’s Fraternity Service Center, we have compiled a complete and up to date list of chapter alumni. Through this new list we have become more connected with our alumni and have been able to keep them aware of our progress.

Areas of Improvement:

- Pledge Education: While our colony conforms to all of Duke’s and SAE’s pledging policies, we feel that there are areas within new member education that need revision. Having just initiated our largest pledge class to date, we are receiving input from our new members as to how we can enhance the pledge education experience for everyone involved.
- Utilization of Officer Notebooks: To shorten the transition and learning curve for newly elected officers, we need to return to the use of “Officer Notebooks”. These notebooks were created by our initial officers and have passed down to younger generations, yet the use of these books has waned over time and chapter management would improve if these notebooks were utilized more. We are working to update these books and make them available electronically.
- Continuing Education: We would like to be more involved not only with our own member education, but the education of the entire Duke Community. In planning for the fall, we would like to invite a guest speaker to campus and/or host an educational seminar or for all students.
Community Service / Philanthropy Initiatives:

- Habitat for Humanity
  - Brothers dedicate one weekend a semester to work on a construction project
- Durham Nativity School
  - Our brothers tutor middle school kids weekly in such subjects as English, Math, Social Studies. As mentors, we are helping to increase their body of knowledge through engaging in community service in areas all throughout Durham.
- Durham Parks and Recreation Coaching
  - Several brothers coached Durham youth basketball for a season, with multiple time commitments per week.
- Duke TNT (Team in Training)
  - Founded by one of our own new members, Team in Training will provide free access to professional fitness training regimens. Still in development, many brothers are working actively to get this program off the ground on campus.
- Benefit for Leukemia and Lymphoma Society
  - Sponsorship of a club in Durham from which a portion of proceeds from cover charges went to benefit LLS.

Academic Initiatives:

- Cumulative grade point average of the colony is currently 3.418
- Each semester, an award is given to the brother with the highest GPA in the colony.
- As a way to distinguish ourselves, we look to raise our colony minimum GPA requirement from 2.5 to 2.6.
- Group study sessions are organized by our Scholarship Chair, and these sessions are mandatory for brothers experiencing academic trouble.
- New members of the colony are given a list of each active brother's major and are encouraged to use this list as a resource for help in any course they are enrolled in.
List At Least Three Chapter Accomplishments

- We have had another solid pledge class in terms of numbers and in terms of devotion. The new members comply with our rules and are appreciative of the values of our fraternity.
- We have begun planning our centennial and have had a lot of support from both nationals and from our alumni. We have a dedicated committee that has been working hard on getting the word out through newsletters and has been working with the alumni office in particular.
- We have strengthened our relationships between other Sigma Chi chapters by hosting them while they have been here, working more closely with our nationals and attending our province conference in strong numbers. In addition, we have demonstrated to these groups that they must adhere to Duke policies and our bylaws if they are to spend time in our section.
- We have become more efficient in terms of rules and having an internal judiciary process for brothers and their guests.

List Three Areas that Need Improvement

- We have been working on complying with RA’s and RLHS, but I believe that we still need to do a better job at respecting their policies: at the same time, I think that there are some areas that need to be improved on both sides.
- We still need to improve the number of people who are in attendance of our chapter meetings. We have organized surveys to find out which time is best for brothers.
- While a better time may be met, there is still a level of apathy from some brothers and we would like to work on this.

List All Community Service and Philanthropic Initiatives

- Community service is required of all brothers. Though many brothers prefer to do service on their own, such as volunteering at Duke’s hospital or tutoring impoverished children, we also have several fraternity-wide requirements.
- All brothers must volunteer at Habitat for Humanity at least once a semester: we have been doing so very well as we have brothers at Habitat nearly every weekend. In addition, we have also partnered up with other groups such as Mi Gente in having community service “mixers.”
- We created the event Sigma Slam, a philanthropic event benefiting Duke Children’s Hospital as we did not previously have an event for philanthropy. We are still waiting for the check from Duke, but believe we raised between $650 and $700.
• We have had several brothers attend Duke Engage. This is optional, but we all have a lot of respect for the program and encourage people to attend it.

List All Academic Initiatives

• We have a scholarship chair who is in charge of people being in good standing with their academics, but we also have various policies that are strongly recommended for people.
• We highly encourage our new members to partake in study hours during the week. The recommended amount is five hours. We have a proctor during this time and a sign-in sheet to make sure that people are recognized for what they do. The proctor makes sure that only work is done and that appropriate noise level is maintained.
• Similarly to our philanthropy, we encourage brothers to add to the academic culture of Duke, including becoming TA's, taking part in peer tutoring, and doing research.
• We are attempting raise our chapter’s GPA average by .2 by creating study hours for all brothers in addition to creating a mentoring system in which more senior brothers will be able to teach younger brothers of their major.
• We are also mandating that brothers apply for scholarships from our national headquarters.
• In addition, our member Nick Altemose was awarded a marshall scholarship for his achievement in biology.
